Paris, June 28, 8:45 p. m.-Although Germany's formal reply to the French note has not yet been received, there is reason to believe that the interview between Chanceller Von Buclow and M. Ethourd, the French Ambassador to Germany, resulted in quite fully foreshadowing Germany's intentions,

The results of the interview are new in the possession of Premier Rouvier, and he is not likely to make that communication before the meeting of the Council of Ministers to-morrow, when the status of Ministers to-morrow, when the status of negotiations will be fully gone over. However, a definite determination, either favorable or unfavorable, will not be long deferred. Several propositions are unfor consideration with the view to terminating the crists, but until one of these is definitely chosen the officials will be unable to predict its chances of success. RUSSIA MAKES SELECTIONS.

Rosen and Nelidoff Believed to Have Been Chosen, but Official Announcement Is Delayed.

Washington, June M.-Russia has given reassurance of its intentions in the peace negotiations by placing the President in possession of the tentative selection of her plenipotentiaries, as follows: M. Nelidoff. the Russian Ambassador at Paris, and Baron Rosen, the newly appointed Russian Ambassador at Washington,

Russia thus having taken the initiative, it is believed that Mr. Takahira, the Japanese Minister, during his call at the White House to-day, informally told the President that Japan's selections, also tentative, were Baren Komura, the Japanese Minister for Fureign Affairs, and Kogoro Takahira, the Japanese Minister at Washington

Official announcement of the names of the plenipotentiaries is withheld for several reasons.

M. Nelidoff's health may not permit him to make the trip, and pressure of official work may necessitate the presence in Tokio of Baron Komura.

Mr. Takabira and Baron Resen are regarded as the certainties, and the belief is that unless something unforeseen should occur, both Russia and Japan will consent to the official announcement of the personnel of the Washington conference within a few days. In any event both missions will consist of many advisers, including army and possibly naval officers, and officials from the Poreign Offices in Tokio and St. Petersburg. It is expected that altogether each mission may number ten or twelve. Should six pienipotentiaries be chosen, both Russia and Japan have names under consideration which will enable them to announce their third plenipoittentiaries without delay.

MAY RAISE TAKAHIRA'S RANK. In recognition of his services during the preliminary negotiations and in view of Prosecuting Attorney of Linn County, and the high official rank of the Ressian pienspotentiaries, it is beleived that the official ar nouncement of Mr. Takahira's appoint-ment will be followed by his elevation to the rank of Ambassador. largely diminished in the last few days because of the receipt of information that the rainy season is beginning in Manchuria. It is believed here that this will serve the purposes of an armistice in prevent ing a clash before the convening of the conference in August.

Moreover, the informal soundings initiat ed by the President at Tokio and Et. Petersburg did not yield much hope for suc cessful negotiations looking to an armistice until after the pienipotentiaries meet If Japan is then convinced of the serious desire of Russia for peace, she will readily consent to an armistice.
